Blaine's Friend Mulligan.

Blaine's historic associate, James Mulligan, is living quietly in this city. He does not object to talk about Mr. Blaine at times when the mood is on him. He does this very coolly, and without the least appearance of resentment or malice. He says he has no disposition to hurt Mr. Blaine now. He never knew by whose information he was summoned to Washington to testify against the ex-Speaker. He certainly did not want to go. He told Mr. Blaine when he got there that he would forfeit a thousand dollars rather than go before the committee. The first trouble between them came from his refusal to go to Mr. Blaine's house immediately after he got to Washington. Blaine urged this very warmly. Mulligan told him it would not be right, and would put him in an awkward position before the committee. Blaine then asked him if he had the letters, and he said he had, and would be compelled to produce them. When Mr. Blaine asked to see them, he gave them to him readily, supposing that it was his purpose to prepare questions that would aid in his own exculpation, and being very willing to aid him to that extent. It was Blaine's refusal to return them that first created antagonism between the parties. Mulligan says that was a very bad mistake on Blaine's part—it stopped him from destroying that there was objectionable matter in the letters. He thinks that the true inwardness of the railroad transactions has never been disclosed. So far from losing money, as Blaine claimed, he made an enormous amount. Mr. Mulligan estimates him to be worth $700,000, unless his property has shrunk a good deal lately. Mr. Mulligan is disposed to be merry over the statement made by Blaine's friends to impeach his (Mulligan's) evidence, that he is a Roman Catholic. He is and always has been a Protestant Irishman. Mr. Blaine, on the contrary, was born, he says, of a Catholic father, his ancestor on that side being of Maryland stock.—Boston Letter to Hart's Courant.

A TRAMP'S LOVE LETTER.—Even the tramps and vagrants have their sweethearts, and are regarded as somebody's darling. Upon the person of as hard a looking case as ever took lodgings in the sand-house was found the following letter when arrested, a few nights ago, on a charge of vagrancy:

SELDALIA, Mo., March 1, 1878.—Miss _____: We were late this morning, and I had to go down town, and could not come, as the boy told you, but I have fixed it so I can come in the morning, be out in the morning at 10 and I will be on hand and make it all right with you. Remember west of the switch. I didn't think that boy would see you, be on time. Dear don't your Charles forget, tell the boy if you will come or not.

CHARLES.

This letter was addressed to a young lady of this city, and as it was not delivered by "that boy," she can have the pleasure of reading it in the Democrat. She can find her Charles on the rock-pile.—Seldalia Mo., Democrat.

AN UNPLEASANT PREDICAMENT.—The Utica Herald tells of the following matrimonial complication: A German named Sutz, living at Cherry Valley, has placed himself in a rather remarkable predicament. His wife has long been an invalid, and a few days ago, thinking that she was dying, she insisted that her husband should comply with her oft-repeated request to make her sister his second wife. Nothing would suit Mrs. Sutz but to have the marriage occur before she closed her eyes in death. The ceremony was accordingly performed, a neighboring Justice of the Peace officiating, and strange to say, Mrs. Sutz No. 1 has rallied and is rapidly growing stronger and probably will get well. Mr. Sutz is anxious to know how he can read his title clear.

We hear of students finishing their education. But life is not long enough for a farmer to finish his education. His school is perpetual and permanent all along life's journey, and the more he learns, the more he finds there is to learn.—Iowa State Register.

A PENNSYLVANIAN'S HALLUCINATION.—Henry H. Erb of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, recently closed up his store and his house and withdrew with his family from all intercourse with the world. The neighbors became suspicious that something was wrong, as Erb's children could be heard crying bitterly, and Erb himself was not known to buy any food. Two officers effected an entrance into the premises by crawling into the back window. The house was found to be in a most wretched condition. All the furniture had been sold, there was no fire, and the three girls and two boys were crying with hunger and shivering in rags, while the mother crouched in a corner. Erb explained that a spirit had appeared to him and directed him and his family to fast for five days at the end of which period a most wonderful event would occur in his house, at which the whole world would be present. He ordered the children not to accept the food offered them, and the mother, who seemed to be entirely under the influence of her husband, also refused to eat anything. The children were clothed and made to take nourishment, and the woman was at length aroused from her apathy by some very vigorous talk.

DEATH, LIFE AND DEATH AGAIN.—The twelve-year-old daughter of J. B. Doremus, of Willis street, Paterson, died on Tuesday of last week, as was supposed. The body was prepared and laid out in a coffin, and all the arrangements were made for the funeral on Friday afternoon. The father sat alone in his house on Thursday evening. The preparations were all ready, the doctor's certificate filed, and the coffin sat upon the benches in an adjoining room. The door silently opened, and in her shroud and grave clothes the child he had supposed to be dead tottered toward him, threw her arms around his neck, kissed him passionately, and then fell back unconscious in his arms. A physician was called with all haste, but this time she was dead.—New York Sun.

Ginger Snaps. One cup of molasses, one cup sugar, one egg, three-quarters cup of lard, one tablespoon of vinegar, one of ginger, one of soda, pinch of salt. Mix a little stiffer than the dough of a cake; then take a little of it out at a time and make just stiff enough to roll; roll thin, bake in a quick oven.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

Deacon P., of the Tribune, (pronounce try-bune,) has just learned that John H. Kinkead is a gubernatorial candidate. The Tribune is informed that Mr. Kinkead will bring the entire vote of eastern Nevada into camp at his back, and thinks Daggett may take warning in time and save himself trouble. Mr. Kinkead has been a candidate throughout the canvass, but it has been considered that Storey county would demand the election of her executive as a matter of succession. Without conceding the necessity for such a decision, we are still of the opinion that unless some issues are raised between candidates upon matters of record or proposed policy, which does not now seem probable, the nomination will be a mere game of chance. The Carson Tribune favors Daggett, and also the compromise, thus inferring, at least, a connection between the two. Batterman is kept out of print, and there is no knowledge of his position yet before the people. The Eureka Sentinel favors Hagerman, and also the compromise. The Appeal favored Hobart and the compromise, while no journal of the State which saw the virtue of the compromise measures sees any virtue in Bradley. This fact alone is the secret of his strength.

We do not believe that R. M. Daggett belongs to any man or set of men, and the same may be said of Batterman, Kinkead and Hagerman, but unless the question of their positions upon this billion tax meets fair and definite treatment at their hands they will all belong to Bradley when the election is over. He will bag the entire lot of them, and do it easily. Although the majority vote of the State desires an honest Republican for Governor, it is poor policy to underrate the enemy in order to elect him on paper. Anyone can sit down and figure out an immense success, which may prove a disastrous failure, and we represent that the enemy is now the only man at work. He is playing upon this one-stringed harp, billion tax, and is attracting many hearers. He avows open opposition to corporations, which we take to be the sentiment of this State. Hesitation upon the part of candidates who hold similar views will but increase their work when campaigning time comes. It is always better to say what theory rules you, and the man who first declares himself will be Bradley's most formidable opponent. If the declaration comes before Bradley finishes his work we shall have once more a Republican Governor in Nevada.

BONES ET. AL.

Senator John W. Bones has been demonstrating the fact that his head is all bones. He has lectured upon "Capital vs. Labor." After a course of unhesitating approval for capital and all its schemes, coming from a railroad shop and voting with his employers, he now seeks to show that his preaching is the converse of his practice. Senator Bones is a conspicuous failure, deriving notoriety upon the same ground which has always immortalized six-legged calves, and never fails to mark and commemorate political monstrosities. He has confessed that the density of his ignorance prevented him from doing that which he promised. He has now confessed that the amplitude of his idiocy allows him to consider that the crimes of ignorant action are excused by the strength of honest prejudices. If there be an island secured from communication with the outer world, let it be pointed out to Senator Bones. He should go there and study the methods of government as a commencement or foundation for his political career. When he has learned to make the voice of Bones obey the interests of its owner, it will be time for him to hire a hall and lecture. So long, however, as a negative Bray issues from beneath the ears of an affirmative ass, we do not want to hear Bones on "Capital vs. Labor."

There are a great many nuisances not mentioned in the statutes.

The revenue bill, ordered reported to the House by the Ways and Means Committee, imposes a tax of two per centum on all incomes over $2,000 a year, no matter from what source derived.

Probably a Herald Sensation.

A Herald Paris specialist of April 21, says: From a person who professes to have an intimate acquaintance with the Vatican, I hear that a movement is on foot which promises to be the most important event in the religious history of the century. This is nothing less than the secession, in large bodies, of members of the English Protestant Church to the Roman Catholic Church. The number of seceders is placed at as high a figure as three millions of people. Included in this exodus from the Church of England are Bishops, Rectors, Curates and Deacons. Authorized delegates are, it is asserted, now in Rome, negotiating the conditions upon which the secession will take place. The acceptance of the Catholic faith is promised on the following named conditions: First—The acceptance of all doctrines of the Catholic Church. Second—To solve difficulties among Anglicans relative to ordination, the bishops, ministers and deacons consent to receive fresh orders in the Roman Church under certain conditions. Third—All new priests undertake to live a life of celibacy. Fourth—Ministers already married shall not be asked to quit their families, but shall be debarred from hearing confessions. Fifth—New Catholics to be placed for a period of 20 years under a special Episcopal hierarchy in order to smooth the many differences of opinion that may arise during the transition. This plan is modeled on that adopted by the church in the East. In Armenia, for instance, every city has its special hierarchy.

THE AFORESAID DOLLAR.—The Gold Hill News has the following: Now that the new silver dollars have become plenty and cheap, a friend in Carson has bought one and sent it as a present to the Gold Hill News. "This," he says, "is the dollar of yours daddy." That may be all right enough but as our dad wasn't a capitalist, we don't recollect the size of his coin, only that the weight and amount of it never broke his knee caps. Anyhow, we rather like the looks of the new coin. It has been severely criticized and condemned by every newspaper in the United States. Every penny-a-liner, without the price of a drink in his pocket, and owing for his regular hash, has deemed it fashionable to abuse and deride the style of the new dollar, but the News does not. The Goddess of Liberty head on it is large and has more back hair, and more cheek than any of her previously coined representatives, and the eagle has a loftier and more hilarious flop to his blessed wings. It's a good coin, and "there's millions in it." The new dollar has a particularly healthy and substantial appearance, and the more you have of them the better they look. The "dollar of our daddy" shall always pass at "pa" value with us. Gold Hill News.

General Grant is reported to have said: "If I were not an American, I would be an Englishman. And if I did not live in America I would live in England." He denies the story that he had felt hurt because at the Prince of Wales' dinner he was not asked to sit next to the Emperor of Brazil, and said that no one could have shown him more attention than the Prince of Wales, and that he had carried away the best of feelings toward the Prince. His trip to Scotland interested him deeply, more especially his visit to Dunrobin and Inverary. "There is no man living for whom I have higher esteem than for the Duke of Argyll." He looks forward to his visit to Ireland with great pleasure, and will make that tour as he goes home.

A most wonderful treasure of deposit has been discovered in Montana. It is up in the mountains some twenty miles from Helena. A shaft fifteen feet square has been sunk fifty feet deep, and out of this hole about $60,000 have been mined. The metal is gold, and the ore does not fall below $80 a ton. Much of it goes above $1,000 per ton. Its extent as prospected indicates that it may be the richest mine in the world.

The San Francisco News thinks it would be a good idea for the government to liberally pension Tilton, Beecher and the female partner of their bosoms. The male members of the firm would then be above the necessity of lecturing, and Elizabeth could worry along without any more confessions.

During the first quarter of the present year 3,355 business failures occurred in the United States, $82,000,000 liabilities.

Twenty-one bankruptcies occurred in Chicago, April 20.

The San Francisco Examiner gives the following notice of a veteran.

At his own request, after forty-two years of service, Major-General Robert Allen, U. S. A., has been placed upon the retired list. He arrived in San Francisco in 1849 by the steamer Panama. He was stationed at Benicia, where he acted as quartermaster. He was one of the first to establish inland communication, becoming one of the principle owners in the steamboats plying the Sacramento river. He developed a gold quartz mine on Mount Diablo, but the yield was not sufficient to make it pay. He also engaged in various other mining enterprises in the State. He acted largely in real estate in this city, and was identified with its early advancement, being one of the builders of the two plank roads to the Mission. He was the first purchaser of the Comstock lode. He was called East during the war, and was Chief Quartermaster of the Western Division. He acted in this capacity during the Atlanta campaign, and to him Sherman's success may be justly attributed. General Allen is 64 years of age. It is reported that he will write up a narrative of the momentous events in which he has taken part.

A telegram from Berlin says England and Russia have agreed to a simultaneous withdrawal of the British fleet and Russian troops from the neighborhood of Constantinople.

The suffering miners of Pennsylvania are petitioning the legislature for relief for themselves and families.

GRAND OPERA TROUPE.
The Opera House Troupe will not perform in Reno this evening as has been heretofore announced. To-morrow night, however, and on Thursday evening the company will present our citizens with a performance both highly interesting and intensely amusing. The new version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin", as successfully played in San Francisco for four consecutive weeks, and which elsewhere drew crowded houses, will be the treat. Billings, as Uncle Tom, is a host. Miss Howard, as Topsy, bears that character to perfection, while little Zoe Tuttle, as little Eva, gives a charming and life-like rendition of Mrs. Stowe's favorite character. The company have twenty genuine colored people and jubilee singers. Jno. Leach takes off John Chinaman in a style which brings down the house. For particulars see advertisement in another column.
RENO BLUES.—A meeting of the Reno Blues is call for Friday night at Capt. J. V. Webster's. All boys of thirteen and over who wish to join, will also meet with the company. The meeting is call for the purpose of reorganization. Good for the youthful military aspirants. The boys will meet and there will be a quorum too.

Ricard Case.

On the calling of the Ricard case this morning in the District Court, Mr. Brown, counsel for defense, was found to be quite indisposed and an adjournment was had until 1 P. M. Mr. S. S. Grass, first witness for defense, resumed the stand and was testifying until a late hour this afternoon. The case proceeds very slowly because of the able and close argument over every contested law point. The questions almost constantly arising are more of less intricate and presumably important as materially affecting the issue involved. The guilt or innocence of young Ricard seems not to figure in a special way, particularly with the plaintiff. But he contends that he was tried a second time for virtually, if not actually, the same offense, viz: embezzlement, and that between the first and second trials in 1876, in the Fourth Judicial District Court, that he without cause was for a period of some months wrongfully incarcerated in the Humboldt county jail. For this alleged false imprisonment he brings suit to recover damages in the sum of $100,000. The defense aver that Ricard by embezzling funds of the railroad company at two or more times, did commit separate offenses, and by reason of the said crimes was justly subjected to the two trials had. Of course the case by this showing is one in which many nice points of law arise, and therefore the length of time consumed in trying the cause. It is safe to presume that the case will continue through the week, although it may be brought to a close to-morrow evening.

JUST THE THING.—A neatly dressed man can take some comfort with himself and at the same time be favorably regarded by his friends. It is true economy to buy good clothing, and of a style in conformity with the prevailing patterns. The next question is, where shall one get, during these hard times, a good article of underwear, business or dress suit, which gives satisfaction in price and quality of goods? Messrs. Cohen & Isaacs, at the Branch White House, on Commercial Row, next door to the postoffice, is your place gentlemen. They have all the latest styles of men's and boy's clothing, and at all prices and sizes. Their stock is both large and complete. A man can go into their store and get a full outfit, hat, suit of outer and under wear, and boots or shoes as he may prefer. These gentlemen have just received a full stock of spring and summer clothing, and defy competition in their selling prices, as well as in the quality of goods which they sell. 4-28-tf

JUST WHAT YOU WANT.—Mr. E. Meyer has such a cigar stand as one seldom finds outside of the large cities. He keeps everything in the tobacco line, and in addition thereto a full and varied assortment of pipes, cigar holders, etc. His new quarters, in Manning & Duck's brick building, is central in situation, and is arranged in the most convenient and artistic style. Meyer has resolved that those who wish a fine cigar and the best quality of smoking and chewing tobacco can get these here in Reno, and of the same quality as any in the United States. He, therefore, in another column, solicits public patronage, being fully convinced that those who give him a call will be handsomely treated and entirely satisfied.

CAUTION REQUEST.—A complaint is made to us that our saloon men and others give and sell liquor to an honest man in our midst called "Boss," and that he is by reason of this fact, incapacitated not only for work, but proper self control. In fact liquor makes him crazy, so much so that if he receives it, as he does, the county will have to appoint a guardian over him. The complaint is made by one of the officers of the law. Of course no one who has given him liquor, has done so but from the best motives and in charity to this unfortunate man, and we presume will not contribute further to his detriment and the county's expense.

CLOTHING.—It is scarcely necessary for us to add a word to what Messrs. Cohn & Isaacs have so fully stated in a regular and again in a local advertisement. This clothing store is one of the largest and has one of the best selected stocks of gentlemen's furnishing and dress goods of any house on the line of the Central Pacific east of Sacramento. These gentlemen sell at most reasonable prices, and are reliable in the representation of their goods. Read their advertisements.
